WE'VE REARRANGED!

We're shaking things up down here in the LMC! You have to come in to check out our new digs.

As you know, Mrs. Z wants the library to be a cozy, comfortable place for dropping in to read or visit with friends. In an effort to provide more spaces for conversation and collaboration, the comfortable blue chairs and end tables have been rearranged in a zig-zag pattern to allow for groups of three or two to sit together.

With the tables positioned like coffee tables in front of the chairs, you have a place to put your things down, eat lunch or even kick your feet up for a bit. Plus, there's more room to display magazines and library materials.

The new design allows for more conversation.

Magazines are easily available.

Just like the rest of the LMC, please help Mrs. Z keep this area in order by putting the chairs and tables back in their original positions and by cleaning up after yourself—that means food and paper left on the tables or the floor.

Overall, the student & faculty feedback has been very positive. Come in, check it out, and let Mrs. Z know what you think! You never know when one of your ideas may be implemented!

A BIG shout out to all of my helpers: Savannah Hall, Emma Hawkinson, Alyssa Joseph, & Athena Sullivan. Thank you, girls!

RHS PRIDE

Do you like history? Do you enjoy hearing about Roosevelt High School's proud past or looking at pictures of former students?

If so, come take a look at our new display: Our RHS Library Through The Years.

This table-top display showcases various pictures of our library, LRC or LMC throughout the last 90 years. There are some really cool things to see! Included are a few library tools of the past. Mrs. Z bets you don't even know what some of them are!

Come and see for yourself!

Wait! There's More!
